Jennifer Bell Bio

Jennifer has over 25 years of experience in Accounting and Financial management with various roles as CFO and Controller. Throughout her career, she has been responsible for managing the financial operations of small to medium size private and publicly held national and international companies in the software development industry. She began working in the Non-Profit arena in 2011 and hopes to continue until she retires.

Due to her vast expertise in small organizations, Jennifer understands the challenges that many businesses face and recognizes the need to wear many hats including HR. She is a CPA and currently serves as the Vice President, Finance overseeing the finance, accounting, insurance and information technology functions at Parenteral Drug Association in Bethesda, Maryland.
