

About the presenter:

David Rossell, Ph.D., CISSP has supported IT in non-profits and associations for the past 20 years. He has played every role from help desk through CIO and understands the challenges and constraints facing organizations of every type and size. He now leads the security and consulting practice at Ntiva, Inc., a managed IT services provider that focuses on associations, non-profits and small to mid-sized businesses.

As the practice principal, he helps Ntiva's clients manage their IT infrastructures, secure their networks, evaluate risk, and meet compliance requirements.